"THE HENRIETTA"

When five stars of the reputation of William H. Crane, Thomas W. Ross, Maelyn Arbuckle, Laura Hope Crews and Mabel Tallafarro may be seen in the same performance for the customary high-class theatre price the bargain spirit of the times is certainly touching high spots, and the reminiscent playgoer will have to change his tune about the good old days. They are to appear in the delightful comedy, "The Henrietta," which was the pride and glory of Robson & Crane, the beloved comedy firm of a generation ago, and which has been revised and infused with the galloping spirit of today by Winchell Smith and Victor Mapes. This is a red letter booking of the dramatic season at the Salt Lake theatre.

Here is news to buoy the spirit of him who thinks he is not getting his money's worth at the legitimate theatre: William H. Crane, Thomas W. Ross, Maelyn Arbuckle, Laura Hope Crews and Mabel Tallafarro, stars everyone, in a revival of "The Henrietta," Bronson Howard's great comedy, critically considered one of the best ever written of American life and character.

"REBECCA OF SUNNYBROOK FARM"

Maintaining the high standard of good things offered by the Utah players, comes the news that next week's production will be the delightful story of "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm." In the dramatization of this story none of its original charm or sweetness is lost. The title role will be handled by Lucile Rogers who has distinguished herself with the Utah company and whose personality particularly adapts her to the portrayal of this character. Jeremiah Cobb, the lovable old farmer, will be impersonated by Frank E. Jamison, character man.

"Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" will open Monday evening and continue throughout the week, including Wednesday and Saturday matinees and Sunday's evening performance.

No traveler leaving France will hereafter be permitted to take out of the country more than 50 francs ($10) in coin, under a recent decree of the finance minister. The action is due to the scarcity of silver coin, particularly in the frontier regions. People have been collecting coins and exporting them.

France is the one country that has never discounted silver. With her it has always been 15½ to 1 of gold and she has thrived by it.
